JAYDEN KILLER'S BROTHER IS JAILED

• Murderer Ben Blakeley

• Accomplice Jake Blakeley

Murderer's accomplice faces three years behind bars for burying teenager

By Adam Flinn
adam.flinn@oxfordnewspapers.co.uk

A TEENAGER who helped his brother dig a grave to bury the body of murdered pregnant 17 year old Jayden Parkinson who had been living in Oxford was jailed for three years at Oxford Crown Court on Tuesday

Jake Blakeley 18 of Venners Water Didcot pleaded guilty to perverting the course of justice in June 2014

He helped his brother Ben Blakeley conceal Jayden s body in their uncle s grave by All Saints Church in Didcot in December 2013 but denies knowing he was digging a grave to bury her

Ben Blakeley was sentenced to life behind bars for his ex girlfriend s murder in July

But the court heard during a seven-day trial in January Jake Blakeley thought he was digging to hide weapons a dead dog and a dead cat

The jury was unable to reach a verdict in relation to one count of preventing the lawful burial of Jayden.

Craig Kirby from Thames Valley Police s major crime unit said Jake Blakeley was sentenced having previously pleaded guilty on a basis of plea that he knew he was helping his brother to conceal a criminal act but that he did not know he was helping to bury Jayden Parkinson's body

"Even unwillingly Jake Blakeley assisted his brother Ben to conceal Jayden s body after she was murdered assistance which in the words of Judge Patrick Eccles prolonged the agony of Jayden s family"

"I believe this sentence reflects the severity of this"

• Jayden Parkinson

Jayden was strangled in a field near Upton on December 3 2013 by Ben Blakeley who was thought to be the father of her unborn baby

He buried her in the field before moving her body to the cemetery at All Saints Church four days later

Police began searching the graveyard two weeks later on December 17

Ben Blakeley was charged with her murder and Jake Blakeley for assisting an offender

Adrian Foster chief crown prosecutor for Thames and Chiltern Crown Prosecution Service said "This case is a tragedy for Jayden s family and friends who have been devastated by her death

"We know that nothing will bring Jayden back, but we hope that this sentence brings her family and friends at least a small sense that justice has once again been done

"Our thoughts are very much with them all at this time"

Residents escape from arson fire in block of flats

THREE people were rescued from a flat fire in Oxford on Sunday in what police believe was an arson attack

Police say a communal bin area was set alight at Colemans Hill Flats in Headington at around 5pm

The blaze spread to two flats and the roof and caused substantial damage

Investigating officer Det Con Christopher Gulvin said "We are working with our colleagues in the fire service to establish the cause of this fire but we are currently treating it as suspicious

"Someone could easily have been killed in this fire so I urge anyone with any information to get in touch with police immediately"

Fire crews remained on site for four hours to dampen down the building

The three occupants who escaped the blaze were taken to hospital.

Crew manager Kevin Morgan from Slade Park fire station said. "On arrival crews were faced with a well-developed fire that had spread to the flats

"Crews worked very hard in hot and difficult conditions to extinguish it and rescue three occupants."

Men sought

BICESTER Police have released images of two men they are looking for following an assault on a bus in Pioneer Square in which a teenager was attacked

The incident took place at 4am on November 8 last year, when the 18 year old victim was making the journey from Bicester to Oxford.

He was assaulted shortly after getting on the bus and had to be taken to hospital and treated for a laceration to his right ear

The photos below were released on Tuesday

OXFORD The Tree Hotel in Iffley celebrated the Hindu festival of colours Holi on Saturday

Visitors dressed in white then threw powder paint at each other and left in a much more colourful outfit

Con artists behind bars

AN ABINGDON auctioneer was jailed for five years on Friday for concocting a "sophisticated" con operation which cheated clients out of hundreds of thousands of pounds.

His Honour Judge Stephen John told Jonathan King, 66, of Mallock Way: "Bluntly you lied to them, you stole from them, you cheated them."

King sat looking emotionless in the dock as he was sentenced at Reading Crown Court for the scams as owner of Berkshire based Cameo Auctioneers.

His wife Beverley King, 62, also of Mattock Way, was handed a two year suspended sentence and 150 hours of community work for money laundering.

Her brother Glenn Norcliffe, 54, of Mackey Close, Reading, was jailed for four years.

The con siphoned about £300,000 out of clients' accounts.

A fake customer account was then set up to cover their tracks.

Judge John told King: "You chose over a significant period and ou repeated occasions to defraud clients who had placed their trust in you."

He added: "This was your business.

"When it was failing you determined to see that the last person to lose would be you."

A jury found the trio guilty after a seven-week trial in December.

King was convicted of eight criminal counts including five of fraud.

Beverley King was convicted of one count of money laundering.

While Norcliffe, who managed the auctioneer's finances, was found guilty of four counts of fraud and false accounting.

▪ Jonathan King

▪ Liberty Baker

THE dad of Witney schoolgirl Liberty Baker spoke of his "complete shock" on hearing the man whose car hit and killed his daughter smoked cannabis the day before.

Robert Blackwell, 19, of Hayway Lane in Weald near Bampton, pleaded guilty at Oxford Crown Court on Friday to causing 14-year-old Liberty's death by dangerous driving.

"It was a complete shock," Liberty's dad Paul Baker said.

"We thought it was the combination of the mobile phone and excessive speed but to have cannabis as well it made it even more devastating because it was completely avoidable. It was a combination of all three that caused Liberty's death.

"It was a violent death and it shouldn't have happened."

Prosecutor Ian Hope told the court Blackwell was distracted behind the wheel and had received a text message before the crash.

Defending Claire Fraser said he was distracted but not by the text.

Blackwell's Citroen C2 hit Liberty and three others in Curbridge Road, Witney, on June 30 last year.

By Adam Finn
adam.g.taylornewspapers.co.uk

Mr Hope added he was driving at 44mph in the 30mph zone and that cannabis was found in Blackwell's system after the crash.

Liberty died soon after being taken to hospital, while the three others suffered serious and minor injuries.

Mr Baker added: "Every day [since Liberty's death] has been a struggle.

"When you get this type of violent death you lose all your aspirations as well - you don't look to the future, so it's been really hard.

"And there's still a long way to go, there's still a lot of grieving to go through."

Blackwell also pleaded guilty to causing serious injury by dangerous driving.

During Friday's hearing Judge Ian Pringle told Blackwell to expect a "significant prison sentence" when he returns to the Oxford Crown Court on April 16.

Blackwell was disqualified from driving.

He was released on bail on the condition that he stays at his home address in evenings.

Oxford's animal testing second highest in UK

ALMOST 230 000 animals were used in experiments at Oxford University in 2013, figures have revealed.

A total of 190 469 animals were tested on in university's experiments – the highest number from all English universities for the year.

Edinburgh topped the list with 241 865 animals used in experiments followed by Oxford University College London Cambridge King's College London and Imperial College London.

The data was published by animal protection group the British Union for the Abolition of Vivisection (BUAV) on Monday.

The animals included monkeys rabbits, sheep guinea pigs fish, birds, frogs rats and mice.

Dr Katy Taylor head of science at the BUAV said: "Shockingly universities account for half of the total number of animals used in experiments carried out in the UK and are responsible for some particularly distressing and disturbing experiments.

"Yet despite growing concern regarding animal research, much of it is publicly funded.

"It is ironic that many universities are also leaders in the research to find alternatives to using animals so while one department may be developing cutting edge alternatives another may be breeding animals to be used in experiments."

One example experiment published by the BUAV at Oxford was of 13 macaque monkeys performing a difficult learning task on a computer monitor placed in front of their cages.

They completed 300 trials a day for 15 days and were given a pellet of food for a correct answer.

The monkeys then had part of their brain "sucked out" before having to repeat the task.

In 2013, 45 primates were used in studies at Oxford – 0.02 per cent of the total for all animals.

An Oxford University statement said: "Research involving animals remains essential to medical advances which are saving lives and relieving the suffering of millions of people.

"All such research is closely monitored and carried out according to the highest standards and conditions as set down by the licensing authority the Home Office."

With regard to the example research study it added: "Understanding how different brain areas contribute to cognition helps advance our understanding of neurological dysfunction in humans for example after a stroke."

Psychiatric reports for arson accused being prepared ahead of court plea

PSYCHIATRIC reports for the man accused of arson attacks which destroyed South Oxfordshire's council headquarters are being prepared to see if he is well enough to enter a court plea.

Andrew Mann, 47, of Roke Marsh, appeared at Oxford Crown Court on Friday via video link from Bullingdon Prison near Bicester.

Mann, wearing a grey sweater, spoke only to confirm his name and kept quiet and still throughout the rest of the hearing.

He is charged with two counts of arson with intent to endanger life and two of arson reckless as to whether life was endangered.

They relate to three fires that broke out at Chadwick Howard funeral directors and South Oxfordshire District Council's offices, both in Benson Lane Crowmarsh, and a thatched house in Quakers Corner, Roke Marsh, on January 15.

Another court hearing was set for March 27.

Judge Peter Ross explained at a hearing on January 30 that if a trial is needed it would probably last a week.

By Adam Flinn
adam@taylornewspapers.co.uk

THREE thousand more migrants were living in Oxford in 2014 compared to three years ago data published by Oxford University s Migration Observa tory has shown

An estimated 46 200 people living in Oxford in 2014 were born abroad compared to the 43 200 shown in the 2011 census

Figures were also higher for the four districts, with Cherwell seeing a rise of a round 1 500 migrants 900 in South Oxford shire 700 in Vale of White Horse and 600 in West Oxfordshire

It comes as part of an nation wide analysis into the migrant populations of local areas to provide information on immi gration for debates in the run-up to May s general election.

Madeleine Sumption director of the Migration Observatory said "These data show how different local experiences of migration have been across the UK

"There are large variations in the size of migrant populations as well as the share that come from EU countries.

"We have undertaken this analysis to provide a resource for anyone looking to under stand local demographics of migration in the run up to the general election."

Nationwide more than half a million migrants have come to England in the past three years approximately two thirds of whom were born in the EU

Just over 7 9million migrants are living in the UK, almost half of whom are living in London and a further 1 1million in the South East

The North East has the least migrants with just 155 000 although it was also the scene of the highest percentage increase at 20 per cent

Cloudy2Clear Windows – Service With A Smile!

It's been a busy few months for Cloudy2Clear Windows. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are misted up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes—not the frames has grown rapidly as homeowners take advantage of their services.

Managing Director James Miller feels that it is all about service. Our product is simple. If your double glazing is misted up we will replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window in any type of frame, and with a new 10 year guarantee. But it's not just saving people money, although that obviously helps.

Many tradespeople have struggled since last year and I honestly feel that during the good times a minority perhaps didn't focus on customer care as much as they should have done. We make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as when we arrived. Often get comments back from customers on how they really didn't expect that sort of service which is a way in very sad for the service industry as a whole.

Cloudy2Clear services Oxfordshire from their local depots and James is finding that his approach is a major factor in his success. "The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated.

So if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give James a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help.

Victim speaks out as Bullfinch rapist jailed

A 'DANGEROUS' man who raped two young girls in Oxford between 1996 and 2008 was sentenced to 18 years in prison on Friday.

Tilal Mahdi is the 10th person to be jailed as part of Operation Bullfinch - the ongoing investigation into child sexual exploitation in Oxfordshire.

By Adam Flinn
adam.g.taylornewspapers.co.uk

The 36-year-old from Friars Street, Hereford, was sentenced for two counts of rape on a girl aged under 16, one of indecently assaulting a girl under 16, one of trafficking for sexual exploitation, and one of arranging or facilitating child prostitution.

Oxford Crown Court heard last Friday that Mahdi would befriend the girls, aged 13 to 15, at the time of the offences, to gain their trust.

He would then ply them with drugs and alcohol before sexually abusing them and allowing friends to exploit them.

In a video interview released by Thames Valley Police, one of the girls, who has chosen to remain anonymous, said that Mahdi made her feel "special" and that he was "caring and loving".

She added: "I was 14-years old and I met him through a friend outside a children's home.

"He made me feel like he cared for me.

"It was a few months down the line, there would be parties at his, and there would be other men there.

"His friends would get a bit touchy and I looked at him to say stop it" then he would come up to me and say 'come on, if you love me, make them happy.'

"I didn't regard it as abuse back then.

"It happened a lot and nothing was done, but now it's all going to change.

"I'll never be able to have a normal relationship again. I can't be with anyone. I'm just happy with my children now."

In his closing remarks, Judge Ian Pringle said: "It is important to say at the offset the damage you inflicted along with others is incalculable to assess.

"The court can only feel the utter horror at what you did.

"You do not fully recognise the awfulness of what you did, and you still pose a danger to people."

Mahdi is also currently serving a four year prison sentence for an unrelated drugs charge after being sentenced at Worcester Crown Court in July last year.

£6m for researchers aiming to cure Parkinson's disease

A £6MILLION funding boost has been given to researchers at Oxford University for their programme on finding a cure for Parkinson's Disease.

Charity Parkinson's UK has given the money to the university's Oxford Parkinson's Disease Centre (OPDC) following on from a £5m investment it made in 2010.

Researchers are hoping the £6m will help to find new drugs that will slow or even stop Parkinson's.

It will also help develop new technology to improve diagnosis of the disease.

Professor Richard Wade Martins, lead researcher at the OPDC, said: "In the last five years we've made remarkable progress.

"Our programme to change cells from patients' skin into brain cells using cutting-edge stem cell technology has allowed us to gain completely new insights about Parkinson's and how it develops.

'We're delighted the new funding from Parkinson's UK will secure the future of this and other vital projects."

Lucy Norman, 42, was diagnosed with Parkinson's four years ago, and is taking part in research at the OPDC alongside husband Angus.

She said: "When you're first diagnosed with Parkinson's it's a dreadful moment.

"Having some of the world's best medical minds researching my condition on my doorstep is a real comfort, and being able to be a part of it is a great feeling."

Parkinson's is a progressive neurological condition which causes tremors and difficulty moving.

People with Parkinson's do not have enough of a chemical called dopamine as some nerve cells in their brain have died.

Fear for future of town's pool

By Adam Flinn
adam@bigbrnewspapers.co.uk

OPTIONS on the redevelopment of Abbey Meadow in Abingdon does not make clear that the outdoor pool would be removed in two scenarios a campaigner has claimed

Vale of White Horse District Council is asking the public to vote on their preferred choice from three scenarios to develop the land.

Option A sees the outdoor pool renovated and a focus on sport on the grounds option B concentrates on tourism and leisure and option C an improving green space

But Peter Harbour of Friends of Abbey Meadow Outdoor Pool said it is not clear that B and C would see it removed.

He said "People are being frightened into believing if they vote for the pool under option A then nothing else will happen

"If people really wanted there to be a restaurant as well as a pool they could still vote for the pool and put that top of the list of things they also want

"One thing is certain though – if the pool is gone it is definitely gone and we'll never get it back they would never dig another hole

"I do hope people recognise that and that it's one of the things that attracts people to the meadow

The district council launched the consultation last month after an initial £500 000 of funding was allocated towards redevelopment in their budget for the coming financial year

A statement from the council said "The consultations document, which we ask people to read before selecting their chosen scenario clearly states under the descriptions for both option B and option C the pool would need to be removed if either of these are chosen."

The consultation is at tinyurl.com/abbeymeadow until April 7

They raised £80 for the hospice, which Ella's three year-old sister Sienna often visits as she has a rare and severely disabling form of epilepsy

"I love going to Helen House and some children at school had done some fundraising for charities before so I decided to do a cake sale" said Ella

"It was great fun and the cakes were very popular

"We also made loom band bracelets and pencil grips and people loved those too

Ella's mum Kay added "It was all Ella's own idea

She added "The three girls did so well. Wootton School is very generous and they encourage children to be involved in fundraising"

'Full inquiry into Bullfinch needed'

LAST week a highly critical Serious Case Review uncov ered an unbelievably cata strophic and institutional fail ure on the part of Oxfordshire County Council and Thames Valley Police to protect chil dren whom it was their job to protect.

In my 27 years as an MP this is the most distressing and disturbing document which has ever come to me

Whilst much commendable work has been done by the council police and others to improve protection and pros ecution since the Bullfinch investigation this must not distract from the horrors of what went wrong

The review raises unan swered questions How was there a culture in both the county council and police whereby such serious inci dents reported in the review were not escalated to senior officers? How was there a pro fessional tolerance of under age sexual activity developed to the extent that it contributed to failure to stop the abuse?

The review does not say who is culpable for these cat astrophic failures Indeed it points out its job is not to do so So far no-one has been dis ciplined and no-one has taken proper responsibility

I laid down an urgent ques tion in Parliament calling for an independent inquiry

The serious case review was based in large part on the evi dence of the internal manage ment reviews undertaken by the agencies concerned

This should be subjected to independent scrutiny that a public inquiry would achieve

We deserve to know what went wrong, and who made the mistakes which enabled this depraved exploitation of vulnerable girls for so long

New support services for foster carers announced

A NEW support service for foster carers who look after teenagers is set to be introduced to Oxfordshire following a £180,000 grant from central government.

Oxfordshire County Council is one of eight authorities across the UK to benefit from a share of the £1.8million pot.

The money will be used to set up support hubs for foster families with dedicated staff offering respite care and social activities.

It is based on the Mockingbird Family Model first used in the United States, where it proved successful improving outcomes for looked after children.

By Adam Flinn
adam.flinn@oxfordmailnewspapers.co.uk

Melinda Tilley, the council's cabinet member for education, said: "This is great news for our foster carers and looked after children in Oxfordshire.

"Foster carers who look after teenagers often need extra help and while we already have a range of support services available to them, the opportunity to recruit specialist staff and strengthen the support network for these families is hugely welcome."

The new scheme is now being piloted in the UK, and is being run by national charity The Fostering Network.

Melissa Green, director of operations at The Fostering Network said: "The charity is committed to supporting foster carers and giving children in foster care the very best chance of a positive future.

"The funding we have received will allow us to take learning from the Mockingbird Family Model and translate it to reflect fostering in the UK.

"This presents a truly pioneering opportunity to change young people's lives for the better."

Town council flying the flag

ON Monday March 9, I was delighted to attend 'Fly the Flag for the Commonwealth' at the Civic Hall.

The event was attended by council members and staff and children from Lydalls Nursery.

The children had made flags and waved them enthusiastically.

Looking ahead, on Saturday April 18 and Sunday April 19 I will be at Didcot Railway Centre to join in the 75th birthday celebrations of a very special engine, GWR Diesel Railcar No 22.

The following weekend on April 26 Didcot Railway Centre will be holding an open day for local people.

On the day there will be opportunities to ride on the trams behind heritage diesels and see the steam engines in the engine shed.

For younger members of the family the education centre will be organising a colouring competition, storytime, and children's entertainers will be on site so bring the family and join in the fun.

This is an opportunity to visit the centre absolutely free of charge for anyone who has an OX11 postcode but to avoid disappointment please remember to bring evidence of your postcode with you on the day.

Myself and the mayoress will both be there all day selling raffle tickets to win a very unique, hand painted plate that has been generously donated by a local artist and No Two Things so be sure to look out for us.

All proceeds from the raffle will go towards the purchase of themed play equipment at the centre.

FOSTERING & ADOPTION

Share the Care Week 16-22 March 2015

Oxfordshire County Council is launching the campaign during Share the Care week 'We need you!" which aims to encourage more people in Oxfordshire to provide Short Break care for disabled children and young people

Harry is 6 years old He likes to play and explore Harry has some conditions that mean he has communication and visual difficulties He does let you know when he is happy!

Helping a child's development

Maria White, Marketing and Recruitment Officer, said: "we're looking to raise awareness locally by putting a spotlight on the fantastic all-round benefits of being a short break carer

The children involved get the chance to be in new surroundings with different people, which is hugely valuable for them, while families get a break It's also a wonderful opportunity for the carers themselves and their families, as they can help make a positive difference to a child's life

Specialist training and support is provided and short break carers receive an allowance and, in some cases, funding can be allocated for set-up costs It's a way of being able to foster even if you work full time

Being a short break carer is enjoyable and can be hugely rewarding We are always looking for new people to take up the opportunity to play a positive part in the lives of youngsters in Oxfordshire in this way".

What is involved?

The scheme offers support to families by caring for children just like Harry for one or two nights a month

Once carers are approved they are matched with a child after a period of getting to know them and their families Foster carers work closely with the family, the council's fostering team and other professionals to ensure that things go smoothly and that the child is happy

Short break carers need

- One spare weekend a month
- A commitment to provide support to families and children
- A willingness to help a disabled child realise their potential
- Motivation, energy and enjoy having fun!!

Other types of fostering

There are many other fostering opportunities available - children of all ages need to stay with foster families for either just a few nights or for the foreseeable future Sometimes children just need the security of ordinary family life - its people like YOU that could make all the difference to a child's life

We offer you all the advice, support and training you need, once approved we will be there for you all the way

Why not come along and find out more about all the options available to you - we would love to see you

Information evening at County Hall, New Road, Oxford, Wednesday 18 March, at: 6.30 pm to 8.00 pm. Or phone 0800 7835724.

FOSTERING & ADOPTION

Make a real difference....become a foster carer and change lives.

Fostering - for many reasons children may not be living at home with their families and they rely on the support and commitment of our foster carers who offer them a safe and loving home

Fostering is supporting a child or young person in all aspects of their lives to help them to reach their full potential

What help will you get? Specialist training & support is given carers receive a generous allowance and in some instances additional fees Because we care that you care

Carrack, come rain or shine

HE is known for working with A list musicians and starring in numerous bands but Paul Carrack takes centre stage at the New Theatre Oxford next Saturday March 14

Described by the BBC as "The Man with the Golden Voice" the 63 year old made his name in the mid 70s when he was the frontman and main songwriter for the band, Ace

He comes to the George Street theatre as part of his UK solo tour which sees the musician perform in cities such as Leicester and Plymouth

"We are a seven piece band and we will be playing songs from my whole somewhat lengthy career," Paul told the Guardian.

"On the night, we will include some of the big hits that I've featured on as lead singer such as 'The Living Years' 'Over my Shoulder' and 'Another Cup of Coffee' that I recorded in my days with Mike and the Mechanics

"We'll also perform 'Tempted' from when I was in Squeeze and of course my first hit from 1974 'How Long?' from when I was in Ace

By James Richings
jamesr@cay.onenewspapers.co.uk

Paul who can play the piano organ, keyboards guitar bass guitar harmonica and sing first burst onto the scene in the mid 1970s when his band Ace became a household name.

He then went on to star in several bands in the '70s and '80s including Squeeze and Ringo Starr & His All Star Band before his a solo career

"No way did I think I would be this successful," Paul said

"I was happy just to be out on the road doing what I loved with my mates

"Although I've played with some real legends like Eric Clapton Ringo Starr BB King Elton John and so on I've never been famous which is fine by me"

He added, "I hope they (the audience) will feel that they've had great value for their hard earned money

"I hope they'll be moved by the ballads and uplifted by the upbeat stuff and leave feeling better than when they came in.

The show starts at 7.30pm, and tickets cost £32.40 to £43.40

A heroine of ancient China

THE ancient Chinese fable of a corrupt minister interviewing potential concubines for the Emperor's harem comes to Oxford tonight.

By James Richings
jamesr@rapidnewspaper.co.uk

The Autumn of Han, performed at the Old Fire Station, brings the traditional tale of the orient to life for two nights – tonight (March 12) and tomorrow (March 13).

The show by Red Dragonfly Productions follows the Emperor's crooked minister MaoYanShou.

When beautiful and brave ZhaoJun refuses to supply MaoYanShou with the usual bribe, he makes sure she's hidden away from the Emperor.

Michelle Yim, who plays ZhaoJun, is also the play's producer.

She told the Guardian stepping up to both roles had its challenges.

"When I started, I was very distracted and found it hard to focus on either one, so it has definitely been a learning curve for me," Michelle said.

"I have acted and I have produced in the past but not in the same production, so this is a very interesting and challenging experience.

"I also have huge respect for those artists who create their own work.

"I'm a little better now and I'm learning to commit to one thing at a time."

Starring four performers, The Autumn of Han is known for grappling with themes of power, love, revenge and corruption.

It has proved a hit during its current UK tour and retained positive reviews at the Edinburgh Fringe Festival in 2013.

"I do feel very privileged to be participating in The Autumn of Han," 28-year-old Michelle told the Guardian.

"I was born in England but my parents' love of classical Chinese literature and stories has been a strong influence during my upbringing.

"So to have the chance to portray one of the heroines of ancient China is a great honour indeed."

She added: "There is a wealth of wonderful stories from the East that have never been seen on a British stage, and we want to give the British audience a chance to experience them."

The show at the George Street venue starts at 7.30pm and tickets cost £7.

WIN copies of ENGAGE by Howard Jones'

EIGHTIES' pop sensation and multimedia maverick Howard Jones has released his latest creation ENGAGE on interactive CD/DVD digital and ground breaking interactive book format, allowing fans to fully interact with the content.

ENGAGE is centred around Jones' live show, first performed in November 2013 at London's Shepherds Bush Empire, to celebrate the 30th Anniversary of his career. The groundbreaking concept, which includes a vast array of influences that have shaped his work, incorporates the audience's participation through audio visual elements and the use of apps. It's a celebration of arts seen through Howard's eyes using all the expressions he loves the most: music, ballet, contemporary dance, cinema and photography.

Howard Jones first burst on the scene in 1983 bringing his very English song writing and pioneering synthesizers to an unsuspecting world. His first two albums Human's Lib and Dream into Action counted a number of wo ridwide hits including New Song, What is Love? Pearl in the Shell, Hide and Seek (which he performed at Live Aid in 1985). These days he still operates on the cutting edge of technology and continues to tour extensively while occasionally collaborating with dance music giants like Eric Prydz and Ferry Corsten.

For More information head to http://www.howardjones.com

We have 2 copies of ENGAGE to give away and to be in with a chance of winning one all you have to do is answer this simple question:

Q What was Howard Jones' first UK number one album?

If you fancy a new outdoor activity to try, the army why not give orienteering a go. This event is organised by Thames Valley Orienteering Club and it's ideal for families and children. There will be six courses to choose from, from 1km up to 5km, taking around 30-75 minutes to complete, plus a special string course for very young children where they follow a line of string to find fun characters. If you've never tried orienteering before, it's a bit like a treasure hunt to find a series of checkpoints around your chosen course. They're marked by flags on the ground and you register with one when it's entirely simple to record your progress and prove you've been to them. The challenge comes by them being no set route between the checkpoints and you have to choose your own way using a detailed orienteering map of the park. This is part of a series of four events around Oxford.

Compact SUV models Ford's newest colour - tiger eye metallic - after current upgrade

Ford gives the Kuga a revamp

FORD has revealed a major revamp of its 2007 Kuga compact SUV

Upgrades to the Kuga's diesel and petrol engine range have meant the American carmakers can pledge lower CO2 emissions alongside more advanced technologies including an Auto-Start Stop and Active Grille Shutter

The new Kuga boasts a 1.5-litre EcoBoost petrol engine reducing CO2 emissions to 143g/km from 154g/km an improvement of more than seven per cent over the 1.6-litre EcoBoost engine the Kuga previously had

And it is newly styled with a variety of different body colours and new communication technology

"Ford has updated the Kuga range with models that deliver more power and lower emissions" vice president of marketing sales and service at Ford of Europe, Roelant de Waard said.

"Tiger Eye metallic is a bold new colour which has not previously been seen on any Ford vehicle and SYNC with AppLink will ensure drivers can be more connected on the move, while keeping their eyes on the road and their hands on the wheel"

The SYNC with AppLink enables drivers to voice activate applications in the Kuga

The controls feature leading music-streaming services such as Spotify, Audioteka Glympse and Radio player

In safety a new Forward Alert and a tyre pressure monitoring system have been fitted.

They warn drivers if they are travelling too close to the vehicle in front, and alert the commuter if any of the tyres lose significant pressure during a journey

It boasts new colours in ruby red metallic magnetic metallic and, for the first time on any Ford, tiger eye metallic.

Didcot boost play-off hopes with two wins

DIDCOT Town brought themselves to within three points of the Southern League Division 1 South & West play off positions with two big away victories in a week

On Saturday the Railwaymen came back from a goal down to defeat local rivals Wantage Town 3 1, before toppling promotion rivals Shortwood United 1 0 on Tuesday evening.

It extended Didcot s winning run to three matches, but although joint manager Ian Concannon said he is pleased with his side s recent displays he urged them to continue their momentum.

"Our performances have been good and I believe they re getting better" he said.

"But to be honest performances are irrelevant at this stage of the season

"I don t care how we play as long as we win If you can win and win well then great but as long as we win the game I'm not bothered how we play."

Prolific striker John Mills took his tally to 43 goals so far this season after picking up his sixth hat trick of the campaign

By Matthew Bruce
news@taylornewspapers co uk

al Wantago

Former Didcot midfielder Ben Whitehead had given the home side a 1 0 lead at half time but three strikes from Mills – two from the penalty spot ensured Didcot did the double over their local rivals

They then followed that up with an impressive victory over ninth placed Shortwood, thanks to an 87th minute header from Adam Learoyd.

The victory moved the Railwaymen up to sixth in the league just three points behind Larkhall Athletic in the final play off place, and Concannan backed them to continue their push

He said "It might not be enough, but we ll give everything we've got to get into those positions

"There are lots of games to be played and a lot of our rivals will be playing against each other so I think there are a lot of points to be won and lost before the season is over

• Hot shot striker John Mills completes his hat trick from the penalty spot for Didcot Town (picture by Roger Neal)

We have to capitalise on that, do our jobs and give ourselves the best chance of success"

Didcot travel to fellow play off contenders Yate Town on Saturday afternoon with the Railwaymen looking to establish a sizeable six point lead over their hosts

Thorpe bemoans Exiles' frail defence

FLANKER Richard Thorpe admitted London Welsh are not defensively strong enough as they suffered another heavy defeat on Saturday

The Exiles were beaten 74 19 away to Exeter Chiefs, their porous defensive line conceding more than 70 points for a third time this season

Thorpe admitted Exeter were too good for the Exiles

"It s always going to be frustrating when you ve got class players playing against you who are able to exploit any errors you make in defence," he said

"At times we were left wanting with our scramble defence

"It s not going to get any easier for us between now and the end of the season.

"We just need to pick up the pieces, keep moving forward and hopefully pick up that elusive first win"

The Exiles now face a two-week lay off before their next competitive action when they play host to Bath at the Kassam Stadium

Oxford City close in on Conference North top-five

OXFORD City stretched their unbeaten run to four games with a comfortable 3 1 victory at home to Colwyn Bay on Saturday

City fell behind against the run of play early on when the unmarked Obi Anoruo s shot drifted past a static City backline and inside the near post.

But City hit back and equalised when Declan Benjamin crossed for the lurking Felipe Barcelos to tap in from close range

Luke Coulson then put the hosts in front in spectacular fashion lobbing goalkeeper Chris Sanna with an ambitious effort from the right hand touchline

City continued to press for a third after the break but found themselves frustrated by their relegation threatened visitors

However top scorer Ade Yussuf finally made it safe in the second minute of stoppage time when he latched onto Marlon Jackson s flick on to beat the defenceless goalkeeper

The win moved City to within two points of the Vanarama Conference North play off places.

They make the long journey to league leaders Barrow on Saturday looking to end the home side s three-match winning streak.

More woe for Welsh

By Matthew Bruce
newsdesk@oxfordmailnewspapers.co.uk

LONDON Welsh were subjected to another Aviva Premiership humiliation as they were thumped 74-19 at the hands of Exeter Chiefs on Saturday.

It was the third time this season the Exiles have conceded more than 70 points and left their Premiership survival hopes hanging by a thread.

The match had started brightly for Welsh, who led 12-0 after 20 minutes following tries from Nathan Trevett and Seb Stegmann.

Richard Thorpe capitalised on a poor line-out from the home side to help send Trevett over for the first, before Tristan Roberts chip found Stegmann in acres of space on the wing to collect and touch down Welsh's second.

But any thoughts that a surprise first win of the season was on its way were banished when Exeter struck back with devastating force before the break.

Will Chudley, Tom James, Jack Yeandle and Matt Jess all crossed to earn the hosts their bonus point before the break.

Henry Slade added another less than two minutes after the restart and the Chiefs onslaught continued unabated throughout a miserable second half for the visitors.

Thomas Waldrom scored the first of his two tries shortly after, before the hosts stretched their advantage even further courtesy of two penalty tries either side of Ian Whitten's breakaway try.

Waldrom completed his brace with the home side's tenth try and although Welsh had the final say when Stegmann touched down for his second of the afternoon, it was scant consolation.

Ardley United stroll to a seventh straight win

ARDLEY United claimed a seventh consecutive victory as they won 4-0 at Milton United in the Hellenic League Premier Division on Saturday.

The visitors were dominant throughout, with goals from Luke Ingram and Jon Gardner putting them two goals ahead at the break.

A Kieran Scott goal and a second from Gardner sealed it in the second half.

Kidlington were held to a 1-1 home draw by Oxford City Nomads with Tommy Franklin equalising for the hosts after Harry Beer had put Nomads in front.

Thame United twice came back to claim a 2-2 draw at Wootton Bassett Town.

Joe Hiscock gave the home side the lead only for Conor McDonagh to head United level just moments later.

McDonagh was again Thame's saviour when he netted a second equaliser soon after Nathan Gambhin had restored Town's lead.

An 89th minute goal from Joe Grant condemned Milton United to a 1-0 defeat at Ascot United on Tuesday night.

Massa after a fast start

FELIPE Massa will be looking for a much better start to 2015 compared to last year as Williams Martini Racing line up for the first race of the season in Australia on Sunday.

Last year the Brazilian was hit at the first corner by Kamui Kobayashi's out of control Caterham, putting them both out of the race instantly.

The Grove based squad will be optimistic going into the first race after enjoying a competitive showing in testing.

"All of the hard work over the winter gets its first rewards here but it can also show a sign of how much work is still to be done," said Massa.

"I also hope that I personally have a better start to the season than last year!"

Massa's team mate Valtteri Bottas put in a good showing at the Albert Park track last year as he stormed through from the back of the field to come fifth.

He said, "The weekend will be interesting but also important as we have to be able to have a strong start and make sure we gain the most from the upcoming weekend.

"I like Melbourne, the first race is really when the gloves come off."

The race starts at 5am GMT on Sunday morning.

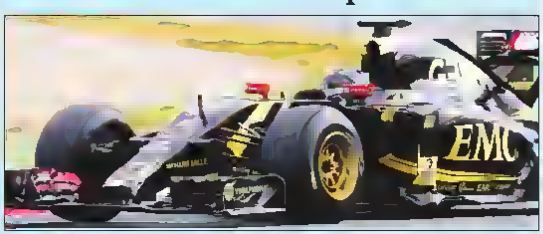
Lotus want vast improvement



LOTUS F1 driver Romain Grosjean is aiming for a much more successful 2015 as the Formula One season gets underway in Melbourne this weekend.

The Enstone-based squad endured a year to forget in 2014, scoring just 10 points and achieving a best result of eighth.

But with the all conquering Mercedes power unit in the back of this year's car the team is optimistic of an improvement in form for 2015.

This time last year we were nowhere, so this year is particularly positive," said Grosjean.

"We still have work to do and our car's not perfect, but we have a great platform from which to build and I'm sure we'll have lots of good developments to come with the E23."

Fellow Lotus driver Pastor Maldonado had a difficult first year with the team only scoring his first points towards the end of 2014 in America.

He said, "I'm happy with what we've learnt this winter and it's a completely different situation from last year.

"We've done more than 4,500km in testing so it's interesting what we've learnt and we'll be able to put everything into practice in Australia."

Sport Bites

'Quins beaten

RUGBY Oxford Harlequins recorded another loss on the road on Saturday as they were beaten 31-18 by Weston-super-Mare.

Elsewhere Witney RFC earned a dominant 65-0 victory over Trowbridge for their ninth win in a row, while Grove also triumphed 47-23 at home to Leighton Buzzard.

Only Quins are in action this Saturday as they travel to Hornets, while Grove and Witney next play on March 21.

Stars misery

ICE HOCKEY It was a miserable weekend for Oxford City Stars as they were thumped 11-3 against Chelmsford Chieftains and 6-0 versus Streatham Redskins in their two fixtures.

Despite the results Stars remain ninth in the National Ice Hockey League 1 standings two points above bottom side Cardiff Devils.

They will be hoping for better luck in their match with Bracknell Hornets who they beat last month when they meet up on Saturday.

Hockey woe

HOCKEY Both of Oxford's South Hockey League Premier sides suffered defeat in their matches on Saturday.

Oxford Hawks were beaten 7-2 by title-chasing Sevenoaks while Oxford University lost 4-1 to league leaders Old Georgians.

The results mean that Hawks are fifth in the table with 26 points while University are eighth on 19 points.

Both will be looking for improved results as Hawks travel to London Wayfarers and University host Lewes on Saturday afternoon.

CALLUM ENJOYS DREAM WEEK

United's teenage sensation follows up winner at Bury with international under-21 call-up

By Matthew Bruce
news@taylornewspapers.co.uk

OXFORD United winger Callum O'Dowda s impressive recent performances in Sky Bet League 2 have been rewarded with a call-up for the Republic of Ireland under-21 side

The 19 year-old, from Kidlington, qualified for Irish nationality thanks to his grandfather Brendan O Dowda a famous Irish tenor from Dundalk.

O Dowda will be included for the first time in the Irish squad to face Andorra in a UEFA European Under-21 Championship qualifying round at Waterford on March 28

He told the club "I am very proud and very excited to have the call-up It is a privilege to be included.

"I was approached a few weeks ago to see if I would be interested because of my family's Irish background.

"I jumped at the chance and can't wait to be involved"

The news capped a good week for the U s midfielder who scored a late winner on Saturday to secure a shock 1 0 win in the closing stages of the match against promotion-chasing Bury

United withstood some heavy pressure in the first half as the hosts looked to extend their winning streak to five matches but the momentum shifted when Bury s Adam El Abd was sent off for picking up a second booking

United struggled to make their advantage count and their chance appeared to have gone when Danny Hylton saw a penalty saved by Shakers goalkeeper Nick Pope

But five minutes from time substitute O Dowda raced onto a delightful ball from Patrick Hoban before rounding the onrushing goalkeeper and stotting home

On an afternoon when the hosts' tempers frayed head coach Michael Appleton hailed his side s cool heads

"I think our discipline s actually won us the game, he told the club

"Obviously the composure Callum s shown has eventually won us the game but it s really the discipline the whole team has shown

When the going got tough we got tough and did it in the right way we didn t step over the line and I ve got to give the players credit for that"

United are now four matches unbeaten ahead of back-to-back home games against Plymouth Argyle on Saturday and basement side Hartlepool United midweek on Tuesday
